Key Risks

The Fund will enter into a derivative with a counterparty. If the counterparty fails to make payments (for example, it becomes insolvent) this may result in your investment suffering a loss.

The value of your investment may go down as well as up and past performance does not predict future returns. Investor capital may be at risk up to a total loss. The Fund will use financial contracts (known as derivatives) to try to reduce the effect of currency fluctuations between the currency of its assets and the currency of the shares. This may not be effective and may prevent the Fund from benefitting from an increase in value of (or expose a Fund to the decrease in value of) a particular currency.

The Fund provides exposure to commodities. Commodity prices react, among other things, to economic factors such as changing supply and demand relationships, weather conditions and other natural events, the agricultural, trade, fiscal, monetary, and other policies of governments and other unforeseeable events all of which may affect your investment.

The following is applicable if you subscribe for or settle shares in a different currency than the fund or share-class currency: Be aware of currency risk. You will receive payments in a different currency, so the final return you will get depend on the exchange rate between the two currencies.

Reference Index key features

The Bloomberg Commodity Index 3 Month Forward (GTR, USD) aims to reflect the performance of the following market:

- Diversified basket of commodities from 6 broad commodity sectors
- Covers over 20 different commodity contracts drawn from the Energy, Precious Metals, Industrials Metals, Grains, Softs and Livestock sectors
- Commodities are weighted according to their liquidity and economic significance, as determined annually by Bloomberg. The Index is a 3 Month Forward version of the Bloomberg Commodities index, meaning the index includes commodity futures that have expiry dates 3 months further into the future than the commodity futures featured in the Bloomberg Commodity Index.
- 2021 target weights were: Energy: 30.0%, Grains: 22.7%, Industrial Metals: 15.6%, Precious Metals: 19.0%, Softs: 7.2%, Livestock: 5.6%
